WPC

The UCCS* Matrix Center's White Privilege Conference (WPC) serves as an annual opportunity to critically examine systems of racism, power and privilege. WPC is recognized as a challenging, empowering and educational experience. The workshops, keynotes and institutes not only inform participants, but also engage and challenge them, while providing practical tips and strategies for combating racial inequality.

Participants

Participants include corporate and non-profit community members, students, parents, educators, artists and activists. WPC is open to everyone and invites diverse perspectives to provide a comprehensive look at issues of privilege including those endemic to race, gender, sexuality, class, disability, religion, etc.

Presenters

The conference features many of the most dynamic leaders in the field of anti-racism and social justice work. Past keynoters and presenters have included: Peggy McIntosh, Cornel West, Paula Rothenberg, Tim Wise, Jean Kilbourne, Catherine Wong, Barbara Love, Francie Kendall, Na'im Akbar, Hugh Vasquez, Geneva Gay and Allan Johnson.

WPC Youth Conference

Designed specifically for high school students, the WPC youth conference is a conference within the WPC which brings together students from around the country. Two full days of amazing workshops and discussions will focus on youth pride, power and leadership in culture and community. Each day will include two 2-hour workshops, lunch, performances, caucuses, and affinity groups.
