

What are you going to do at Thanksgiving dinner when Nana Ethel says something racist?

What about that Facebook post that made you feel uncomfortable and you didn't know how to address it?

To get some strategies and answers for these questions and more you should come to the:

Interrupting and Confronting Every-day Acts of Racism Workshop.

When? Tuesday November 23rd or 30th @ 11:45

Where? Merrill Living Room.

Brought to you by Community Advocacy and United Against Racism.
