

connecting the arts to social change

tuesday, march 13 // 7:30 pm // main stage of edh

the panelists:

DAVID BUDBILL

ARACELIS GIRMAY

ADELIND HORAN

KAMIL PETERS

JILL LEWIS

playwriting

poetry

playwriting

sculpture

filmmaking

sustainability

speech as action

environmental justice

community engagement

public health

How do people working with creative forms actually change hearts and minds, and even the daily practice of living?

Join artists / alums / professors in discussing the unpredictable nature of inspiration. Learn about the imagination, personal experiences, opportunities, and communities that can build bridges between the arts and social change.

Bring your own work to the table. Share your project ideas in small groups of students and faculty to discuss how you might make your own creative connection to social change.

